

I want to thank you for stealing my girl away
You did a favor for me
OK I admit it, it did go down that way
But my excuse to be free
I don't know what's the problem with me
I guess I ask for a clue
It would be better if I just took the blame honestly
Instead of pointing to you
Instead of blaming it on you

Where did all our plans go
They just flew right out the window
I don't know why I act this way
I'd like to hear what you have to say
When was it the vision died
I woke up one day and the well had dried
I don't know why you acted that way
You don't wanna hear what I have to say

Where did all our plans go
They just flew right out the window
I don't know why I act this way
I'd like to hear what you have to say

When was it the vision died
I woke up one day and the well had dried
I don't know why you acted that way
You don't wanna hear what I have to say
Where did our plans go
