

Forever

Aaron Lewis

Another cheap high rise Hotel room.
Another Place another Show.
Another Meaningless...
Destination with nowhere to go.

Another Time to say "I love you"
Another Time to say "good night"
Another Time to hear a dial tone
'Cause no one wants to fight.
Why should we fight?

'Cause I can see it in you're Eyes...
Is the Sparkle gone forever?
Don't say forever!

And I can feel it when we touch...
Is the fire out forever?
Don't say forever!

Another time to miss a Birthday
Another time to miss my Flight
I've missed so much, that I don't know what I have
And what I thought I might.
What I might 'cause

I can see it in you're Eyes
Is the sparkle gone forever?
Don't say forever!

And I can feel it when we touch
Is the fire out forever?
Don't say forever!

Now I'm lying beside you...
A stranger in you're Arms.
We drift apart together
And come back like a Storm...
Like a Storm...

Another Show up in Decatur
Another one in San Antone
Somewhere else in this Equator,
Takes me far away from Home
I'm coming Home 'cause

I can see it in you're eyes
The sparkle shines forever
This is forever

And I can feel it when we touch
The Fire burns forever
'Cause this is forever

I can see it in you're Eyes
The sparkle shines forever
This is forever

I can feel it when we touch
The Fire burns forever
This is forever
