Just One Heart

ABBA

The fevers running in the city
People want to make it so much worse
On the high street I can see no pity
People with their faces in the dirt

Just one heart, that needs to open Just one word, will break the ice One touch, to kill the darkness One kiss, to give it light Make it right

See the man there kicking in the shadows Why's he feel he's got to kill and steal He can't wait to see which way the wind blows Does it mean he'll get a better deal
