

Broken Real Good

Acid Drinkers

Never been this wasted
Never felt so broken
You don't wanna taste it
Wish I'd never woken
Never been so wasted
Never felt so fucked
You don't wanna taste it
Wish I'd never woken
Runnin' like an ungreased engine
Goin' straight but stiff, with tention
As if Colorado boulders
Started falling on my shoulders

That man was stupid and he hand himself
Another man was wise but he shot his head - real good
Better way out then to rot in dread
He has been wasted, broken real good - real good

You play the game, you love the fame
You got to stop, you've got enough
The price is high, the fortune smiles
The double stake, the strife is vile,
You play the game, you love the fame
You got to stop, you've got enough
The price is high, the fortune smiles
The double stake, they say you gonna loose it.

Like Ernest used to say:
Those whose wit is strong and rife
Become boozers every bit
Hepls them live a peaceful life

That man was stupid and he hand himself
Another man was wise but he shot his head - real good
Better way out then to rot in dread
He has been wasted, broken real good - real good

You play the game, you love the fame
You got to stop, you've got enough
The price is high, the fortune smiles
The double stake, the strife is vile,
You play the game, you love the fame
You got to stop, you've got enough
The price is high, the fortune smiles
The double stake...

Another man was wise but he shot his head - real good
Better way out then to rot in dread
He has been wasted, broken real good

You play the game, you love the fame
You got to stop, you've got enough
The price is high, the fortune smiles
The double stake, the strife is vile,
You play the game, you love the fame
You got to stop, you've got enough
The price is high, the fortune smiles

The double stake, they say gonna loose it.
You play the game, you love the fame
You got to stop, you've got enough
The price is high, the fortune smiles
The double stake, the strife is vile,
You play the game, you love the fame
You got to stop, you've got enough
The price is high, the fortune smiles
The double stake, they say gonna loose it.
