- 1. I saw you star-ing at each oth er I saw your eyes be-gin to glow And I could tell you once were lov-er's You ain't hidding nothing I don't know
- R: There's an old flame, burning in your eyes
  That tears can't drown, and make-up can't disguise
  That old flame may not be stronger, but it's been burning lo nger

Than any spark I might have, started in your eyes

- You said it ended when he left you You say your love for him is gone But those old memories still up set you For I might be a memory before to long
- R: There's an old flame...

Cause there's an old flame, burning in your eyes