In My Room

Albert Hammond, Jr.

What's the use of all this talkin?
I can hear you as you walk away
Here in my room that's where I'll be
In my room

After all you're so excited

By all the dick you get invited to

But now I know you mustn't change

I won't go back 'cause you don't want me

Well, I miss you already
I miss you already
You see it got all so heavy
I miss you already

I'm so afraid that I'll wake up All alone with the door shut In my room that's where I'll be In my room, she's in my room

Well, I miss you already I miss you already You see it all got so heavy Yeah, but I miss you already
