Nickel And A Spoon

Alejandro Escovedo

When I turn twenty-one I'm gonna make a change Turn my back on what I was
And make you proud of what I'm not

If it's my life why tear it down And make me feel this way I do my best with what I've got Why do you tear it down?

Mama's not talkin' now
Dad, he's fallen off the track
Sister's on a rampage
And brother, he's planning his silent attack

My family's up and moved away
They couldn't stand the heat
Why build a house just to burn it down
Another love-torn mystery

You take a nickel and a spoon And a crooked lover's tune Might not add up to much Just a nickel and a spoon
