

Bounty Hunter

Alexandra Burke

By candlelight as you shut the blinds and I know
I'm under your control
I feel like I trusted someone so cold
The ropes are tight, I shut my eyes and I hope
You find it in your soul, you have to let me go

But the price upon my head is worth more
It's a feeling that your cold heart beats for
Sell me away, send me astray
You track me down and all the people that might help me stay

Bounty hunter
I'm in your world
I tried running away
But you're ahead of the game
Bounty hunter
I'm in your world
I tried running away
But you're ahead of the game
Run, run, run, run, run
Bounty hunter, you're gonna hand me over

I won't deny not one of my crimes, no, I won't
There was no other road, no emotions to show
When your mind stays cold
Out in eyes, I see inside your soul
It is unbreakable, you have to let me

But the price upon my head is worth more
It's a feeling that your cold heart beats for
Sell me away, send me astray
You track me down and all the people that might help me stay

Bounty hunter
I'm in your world
I tried running away
But you're ahead of the game
Bounty hunter
I'm in your world
I tried running away
But you're ahead of the game
Run, run, run, run, run
Bounty hunter, you're gonna hand me over

Bounty hunter
I'm in your world
I tried running away
But you're ahead of the game
Bounty hunter
I'm in your world
I tried running away
But you're ahead of the game
Run, run, run, run, run
Bounty hunter, you're gonna hand me over
