

Ruthless Love

Alexz Johnson

There is a time to be alone
A time when you buy new shoes
A time for grieving
A time for believing
A time to lose

There is a feeling that won't settle down
It picks you right up off the ground

But like the spin of the world
Butterflies you ignore
We never see the oceans end
It's the slam of the door
Like a tide hits the shore
And here we go again
This ruthless love

There is a pain that be explained
You've given yourself away
When you'd take the bullet
You're a fool and you know it
You have nothing to gain

But like the spin of the world
Butterflies you ignore
We never see the oceans end
It's the slam of the door
Like a tide hits the shore
And here we go again
This ruthless love

It's a cruel world
It's a cruel world
It's a cruel world
You better watch out, son

It's a cruel world
It's a cruel world
It's a cruel world
You better watch out, son

It's the slam of the door
Like a tide hits the shore
And here we go again
This ruthless love
This ruthless love

There is a time to be alone
A time when you buy new shoes
