

Pieces Of Our Heart

All About Eve

I had a dream that we were skating
The ice was thin and we were waiting to fall right in
However deep the truth is hidden
Once you know it's still forbidden

It doesn't feel right
We can throw it away
And pieces of our heart
Remain unbroken

Just like the chain that binds us
Just like the rain that finds us sheltering again
Just like the chemistry
All woven into tapestry
By hands of Fate, and love and hate
And sad guitars and stars

If it feels right
We can't throw it away
They're pieces of our heart
We can't tear it apart
They're pieces of our heart
We never needed to know
And so we remain unspoken
