I remember when you came
I can just recall that day
Unexpected, undetected
If I'd have known I still would have done it.

So little time, so long to wait A paradise, within your eyes All the things I could tell you All the things I could show you.

You're my waking thought You're the smile on my lips I dream I see your face I see and dream of you.

You were safe and warm I was in your hands
We were moved in time
To another space.

Somewhere, not here Somewhere, not here So, little time So, little time.

You were safe and warm I was in your hands
We were moved in time
To another space.

A thousand miles away I'd like to fly to you.

I immerse myself I dream, I see your face I see, I dream of you If you were here we'd watch If you were here we'd see.

You're my waking thought You're the smile on my lips.

You were safe and warm I was in your hands
We were moved in time
To another space.

Somewhere, not here
I know you are somewhere, not here
You're my waking thought
You're the smile on my lips
Are you thinking of me
Do I invade your sleep
A paradise, a paradise
Within your eyes.

I remember when you came

I can just recall that day Somewhere not here Somewhere not here Somewhere.
