Pieces Of a Dream

Anastacia

I thought I saw you late last night But it was just a flash of light An angel passing

But I remember yesterday Life before you went away And we were laughing

We had hope
And now it's broken

And I could see it clearly
Once when you were here with me
And now somehow
All that's left are pieces of a dream

And now I'm lost
In restless nights
Just a whisper of the life
That we created

Shadows falling I am calling

And I could see it clearly Once when you were here with me And now somehow All that's left are pieces of a

The faded photographs
The frames of broken glass
The shattered memories
Time will soon erase

All these souvenirs Salt from a thousand tears But when I wake up You are never there, ho

We had hope
And now it's broken

And I could see it clearly Once when you were here with me And now somehow All that's left are pieces of a

And I could see it clearly
Once when you were here with me
And now somehow
All that's left are pieces of a dream
Pieces of a dream
