

Barriers

Anathema

Floating with nowhere to hide Unspoken twist back inside

How did we get here?

Life don't belong here

Feel like I just never tried to find a way back to the outside it stops me from breathing kills all the dreaming

Talking to you from the other side of a wall in my mind and it's clear that you're near to me.
Think I found a way to understand why I couldn't see what was happening the fear overcame me. Took a trip on the inside I took a trip on the inside I try to hold on 'til this feeling is gone. Break through to the other side need to break through to the other side of everything...

I just can't lay down and die it takes a lifetime to understand why it seems that you need me but you don't seem to hear me

Talking to you from the other side of a wall...
