The Optimist

Anathema

Drive at night, slowly Running in headlights, run away, run away The great is scape and the slowly But fall, it's too late to run away, run away

The life we left behind See, they all are alike The life we left behind Dreaming all our life

We ride on hopes Design our world Let go of you and I Run for eyes Don't look behind