

Seashell Eyes

Annie Haslam

The light was bright around her
The morning that she came
She made faint hearts grow stronger
They'd never be the same

Graceful and alluring
Her skin so soft and warm
It looked so reassuring
Protecting us from harm
But no one's seen her

Seashell eyes and silken mane
Beauty never ends
Her presence holds the forest still
Inviting us to live in peace

She's always there when needed
Her colours never fade
A kiss that brings the morning
When children call her name

Powerful in reason
Moves in a sea of light
She's there to lift our feelings
To see us through the night
But no one's seen her

Graceful and alluring
Her skin so soft and warm
It looked so reassuring
Protecting us from harm
But no one's seen her

Inviting us to live in peace
