

Forgive me nothing, I meant it all
And I was, laughing the closer you crawled
You're coming closer
The warmth of your skin
I'm taking my time
Wanna watch it begin
To puncture the skin
To puncture your soul
To puncture the dream
Because reality's cold

I'll blacken the night
And black out the sun
We'll blacken the world
And then we'll see what's begun
Punctured

I told you that i was lying again
And you believed it
You believed you could win
And you believed it
You believed you could win
Well I punctured the skin
I punctured the soul
I punctured the dream
Because I'm in control
I'll blacken the night
I'll blacken the sun

We'll blacken the world
And then we'll see what's begun
I'll take my time
And break your mind
Your forehead pressed into the ground
I'll watch you kneel, I'll hear you squeal
You're lost and never found
I punctured the skin
I punctured the soul
I punctured the dream
Because I'm out of control
I'll blacken the night
And black out the sun
I'll blacken the world
And then we'll see what's begun
Blacken the world
& then we'll see just what's begun