

Drugdealer

Anthony Green

If you allow something so unnecessary
Get you down there's no one else to blame

I need something stronger
Something extra strength
Millions of materials to trade

If you could offer only love
You'd be like a god to us
Like a drug dealer
All sold out of trust
You threw it away

You'd be like a god to us
Like a drug dealer
All sold out of trust
You threw it away

I used to mind
That everyone I know
Seemed to hate themselves
But I do it as well

We need something stronger
Something extra strength
The millions of recordings that I've faked

If you came around enough
You'd be like a god to us
Like a drug dealer
All sold out of trust
We threw it away

You'd be like a god to us
Like a fool's healer
Like a tarot card reader
Watch you throw it all away

You'd be like a god to us
Like a drug dealer
All sold out of trust
But you've thrown it all away

You've thrown it all away..
