James' Song

Anthony Green

He laughs at everything Unknowing the joy that he brings There is this light in his eyes So bright no one can deny

He'll have his time to change The whole world is spinning around James He loves his mama so Even if she doesn't know How he got so perf-er-ect Our love is the best architect But things they don't stay the same The whole world is spinning around James