

Goodbye, Good Luck

Antifreeze

Do you think
by passing judgement
you are getting to me?
Well I've got news for you
It's not that easy.

You can put me down
but your opinions have no ground
I will listen to what my heart has to say

Don't come around, don't put me down
If that's what I need
I'll call your name
I'll figure you out
It's not that tough
If you want a friend
goodbye, good luck

Maybe you think that you are better than me
Does it really matter anyway?
But if you really want to compare
You can't hold the urge to share
I hope you know
You're just wasting your breath
