

Initiation

At the Drive-In

follow you home after every show perforated into tiny fragments heavy breathing's your new fan club a john handcock with the safety off after every show

and how this pedestel fits like glove such a pity i built no laddter from me the roots and above
i'll be hacking off
after every show

there's no restraining order to keep me from you parting contestants never seem to win

watch you clap your hands by the stage lend me your ears
just another page
in the book that your friend signed yesterday when i told you not to bother to holler your telephone's the one that helped me wrap
the cord
around your neck
you know you're beautiful
when you're dead

initiation
there's no restraining order to keep me from you
