

So you tell me that your broken inside That your gonna die settle down girl I see the fear In your eyes cause your fear is is mine, then tell me there's a cancer in your mind and say that you're running out of time, get through the night I'm right by your side, dry those tears away

Hope is closer than you know you gotta open your eyes and open your mind to see that life is more than who we are
you gotta open your eyes
and focus on the light.
All the clouds are moving faster in the sky and all the stars are getting darker girl I know the pain In your eyes cause your pain is mine i guess you never really know until you realize that your reflection is so precious that I'm spinning girl I'd give you mine If you could stay here tonight

Hope is closer than you know
you gotta open your eyes
and open your mind to see that life is more than who we are
you gotta open your eyes
and focus on the light.
a thousand years can pass me by your memory will never die still don't understand it how he could take your life

Hope is closer than you know
you gotta open your eyes
and open your mind to see
that life is more than who we are
you gotta open your eyes
and focus on the light.