

Ask

Avail

Still trying to understand Why after all this time I never got a reason Abrupt ending with A blank stare and a "I don't care" Cry for help got A definite answer A turned back like I expected from Someone else

If I plan to remain This way for eternity Then I must admit That I've got it made

Still trying to understand If I'd explained my thoughts On commitment Would I still pass Your thoughts infrequently? Although disowned Erased and alone With a word you'd Hear my voice pretending

That I'm finally content With what I've got The same with time rule Worked out just fine

I forgot to Thank you for always Boosting my self esteem Sometimes lies are easy to believe Don't hang on too tightly I may be short of breath

But I'm not easy to deceive