

On The Nod

Avail

Could be afraid of what they'd say could be afraid of the things they say this morning I had the bad taste I couldn't think straight I crawled back inside I've taken this as a warning I'm gonna rid myself of everything outside of my ways could be afraid of what they'd say so from now on I know nothing push it back and let it fade simple words have always meant nothing I can taste the waste of energy I always thought it was safe to be acquainted casually they're dropping non-stop casually I make my way directed to another place to stay until I'm settled but I'm not afraid could be afraid of what they'd say out of strength watch me go afraid that it's over on I move a simple step on my way to avoid responsibility