

Too Late To Cry

Average White Band

It's too late to cry-
too late for wondering why,
You got to dry your eyes -
Baby, it's too late to cry

You always told me
It was no good, no good I never treated you the way that I ought to do I was an easy target - too blind to see my weakness
I did you wrong, I know
But you couldn't really see my side
I know you didn't understand

Now it's too late to cry-
too late for wondering why
You got to dry your eyes,
Baby, it's too late to cry

We had those good times some that were so bad, so bad We couldn't hold what we had at the start
It's too late to cry,
the feeling is gone now, gone now
- gets so bad sometimes It's hard to stop from breaking down
And you wonder if you really tried

Now it's too late to cry-
Yes it's too late to cry-wondering just what passed you by Baby, it's too late to cry-gotta dry your eyes
