Spreding out the wings of night - Overtaking all mankind Getting back the crown to rule again over the kingdom of the night!

Now the time has come, when he open up his eyes... ...the eyes of the darkness

Can you hear the bells chime for the final goodbye. Read the signs everywhere and beware

A million ravens will fly Will hide the sun and the sky They stand for every soul That once a demon stole

The fall of burning rain
Suffocates the world in pain
Watch out for the signs
Watching the skies
Watch out for these red burning eyes

My eyes - in the darkness of your life No scape, your world is mine Everywhere my shadows fly

Eyes of the darkness - sings out of twilight Look - face to face in the abyss of time Eyes of the darkness watching the world now Demons of darkness take shape in this world And they stay... they stay... they stay

Can you hear the bells chime - life has passed you by All the signs I have send - prophesasing your end

I'm a creature of dust Feel the greed and the lust Look in the mirror of pride You see my eyes open wide

Forever darkness and night
Isuffocate your world with my might
See the heaven is black, there's no way back,
Invite you to the world of the dead

Eyes of the darkness — sings out of twilight Look — face to face in the abyss of time Eyes of the darkness watching the world now Demons of darkness take shape in this world ...and they stay

Hear the bells! there's no way back. Your world is mine. I'm still alive!

Can you hear the bells chime for the final goodbye All the signs I have send - prophesasing your end...
