It's a Long Way to the Promised Land

Bad Religion

It's a long way to the promise land so you'd better well know your way where's a ship on the ocean and an albatross who is trying to lead you astray leaders, politicians, and power whores are in line to receive your choice and you bet your ass, if you give it to them, they will gladly take your voice and it's a long way to the promise land wo-oh oh oh oh it's a long way to the promise land, if we work we might find it here there's no substitute for enlightenment, there's no reason for bridled fear when you join the people who've joined the club you gotta clench and play your hand cuz if you fall in line you're gonna fall in time and you'll never make a stand it's a long way to the promise land wo-oh oh oh oh what are you going to do? when they call for you? bend and capitulate? or keep your head on straight? easy answers bought without experience, is gonna lead you to certain doom because the truth is just what you make of it, it begins and ends with you! and it's a long way to the promise land wo-oh oh oh oh