

Mother Earth

Banks

Underwater, consuming all my kind
Destined for alterations
And my mind ain't aligned for her daughter
I know I'm Mother Earth, I see the weather

So I'm not gonna cover up the freckles on my faces
I covered all the bases

Follow me to my bed
'Cause every time you fall, I'll be holdin' your head up
And when will you get tired of feeling bad?
And every time you fall, follow me
Follow me to my bed
'Cause every time you fall, I'll be holdin' your head up
And when will you get tired of feeling bad?
And every time you fall, follow me

He's so hollow
My baby mated blind until he wasted fate
And so I'm left behind until he cursed my sorrow
But I know I'm Mother Earth, I see the weather

So I won't let you pull up in all of my safest places, ah
I covered all the bases

Follow me to my bed
'Cause every time you fall, I'll be holdin' your head up
And when will you get tired of feeling bad?
And every time you fall, follow me
Follow me to my bed
'Cause every time you fall, I'll be holdin' your head up
And when will you get tired of feeling bad?
And every time you fall, follow me
