

Sea Lungs

Baroness

I can't breathe
Nor can I see the sun
It's so cold in here
Where did I go so wrong?

All these days
I've sailed cross these wicked seas
And I have petitioned the deep
For water to keep me clean

When my ship comes in
I'll find a way to breathe again

"Breathe in deep
Let the sea fill your lungs
It's better to brace for death
Than die for a promised land"

"Why so sad?
Your tears are no match for mine
I am eternal sea
And you are a drowning man"

When my ship comes in
I'll find a way to breathe again

When my ship comes in
I'll find a way to breathe again

When my ship comes in
I'll find a way to breathe again
