He's the fuel on the hill See him coming for the kill!

Day after day, prone on a hill A man like a nitro junkie is drinking straight from a still

Nobody wants to slow him They can see he needs his fuel He's a Beatallibanger

He drinks fuel on the hill Til the sun's going down Eyes seeing red And the world spinning 'round

Hard, loose, and clean, head in cloud Quenching his thirst with metal screaming perfectly loud

No one else wants to hear it Beatle black or Metalli-white Fuck 'em man, white knuckle tight

Woah—the fuel is pumping engines You can tell what he wants to do

Your face on the chrome is burning

He never listens to them He knows they're the fools On he burns and they don't like him

On he burns...!