

We Fall Apart

Bebo Norman

Today is not a good day
Stranded in the heartache
Watching all the world race
And pass me by

Like a wave on the ocean
Comes a flood of emotion
And it can't go unspoken
No it can't go unspoken one more time

We fall apart just to come alive
A broken heart can shatter all the lies
A brand new start and a goodbye
We fall apart just to come alive

Yeah but this is still a good life
Standing in the sunlight
Scattering the long line
Of fear and shame

Cause underneath the surface
There's a heart and a purpose
And I swear that it's worth it
Yeah I swear that it's worth it, it's not in vain

You save me, You save me
I'm alive, I'm alive
Cause you save me
