Something Borrowed, Something Blue

Ben Lee

Polystyrene, I wanna daydream, I need an enemy to get me throug h, Prodigal sunscreen, our love's a guillotine, something borrowed , something blue. Another ship sunk, family tree trunk, deep scar diving, I look for you, And we're hoping and we're choking, something borrowed, somethi ng blue. I get the feeling I could leave you on the interstate, I get the feeling like I just broke through. I get the feeling like you never mattered anyway, Something borrowed, something blue. It gets harder, my father, the weight you manage and the damage too, Polystyrene, I wanna daydream, something borrowed, something... I get the feeling I could leave you on the interstate, I get the feeling like I just broke through. I get the feeling like you never mattered anyway, Something borrowed, something... I get the feeling I could leave you on the interstate, I get the feeling like I just broke through. I get the feeling like you never mattered anyway, Something borrowed, something blue; something borrowed, somethi ng blue, Something borrowed, something blue; something borrowed, somethi ng blue. Ten floors, I'm falling, guess who I'm recalling? Oh yeah, it's true, my life begins and ends with you. I get the feeling I could leave you on the interstate, I get the feeling like I just broke through. I get the feeling like you never mattered anyway, Something borrowed, something... I get the feeling I could leave you on the interstate, I get the feeling like I just broke through. I get the feeling like you never mattered anyway, Something borrowed, something blue; something borrowed, somethi ng blue, Something borrowed, something blue; something borrowed, somethi ng blue.
