Hey Madalyn Why are you shooting rubber bands To scare away the lions Tell it to Ann Rand Hey Nietzsche boy What got in your head Turns out you were wrong And only Freddie's dead You have more faith than me You have more faith than me Hey David Hume Your statements make me pause You don't believe in miracles You just believe in first cause Hey Jean Paul Write another play The truth exists and so do you And you can't make that go away We did not follow myths We did not follow lies Proof of the resurrection Stands before your eyes Professing to be wise They have become fools External power has been seen You are without excuse Hey Charles Darwin It's a natural selection If it's there and no one can see it It escapes detection Hey Mr. Skinner I hear you today It doesn't matter if it's true You had to say it anyway
