Option Oblivion

Between the Buried and Me

Real eyes A golden lever. A choice of gold or velvet Do I go on, or follow the crown in the smoke? My last choice derange my voice Real eyes

The lever falls down so delicate

Enlighten me I'll follow towards the smoke The wrenching of the rope I'm always lost The idea of dreaming in a dream My vision is serene Please lift me up

Breathe underwater Swim without limbs

These new eyes will never suffer Enter the new wake Looking back through the painful tunnel They taught us what once was What once was

New air opens my mouth Gasp a new breath What is this place? An alluring frontier
