

Nothing

Beyond the Void

there is nothing
where i were I've come to feel so not here

prone in ashes
can't bring myself to be
i've lost belief in reality

'cause i can't be
when all i held dear,
that was holding me here
is torn away

anything
i dared to trust
is falling to dust
just leaving me
nothing

i am nothing
with nothing left to lose, a lifetime to regret hell, if i'm to lie here alone shattered and torn

i might as well
go forth and unchain hell

'cause i can't be...

we are brought down by the smallest things the grains within we can't be without they rest in silence we rely upon and broken are our doom

'cause i can't be...

the only thing
i dared to trust
is falling to dust
leaving me