

Check List

Big D And The Kids Table

i must've started life with a checklist i took the rules and broke 'em in two
and the first was not giving in like you you're burned out asking which half is me you don't have to dress up it's not a fucking fashion show you don't have to kiss up i'm never going to go that low my life's my book

it is the story of what i write my life's mine and no one said you could change what i write

my life
too late, too soon
my life
too late for you
