

Irresponsibility

Blackbear

Yeah, I could tell from her lipstick
She was irresponsible
It was irresponsibility
That led her out her clothes
And I don't know what I'm doing in this city
I could tell from the pantyhose
I'd be held responsible
All these irresponsibilities led us down this road
And I know you know better than that
I know you know better than that

Girl, let me show you what it feel like
Let me show you what it feel like
Let me show you how to feel right
Let me show you how to feel right girl
Let me show you what it feel like
Let me show you what it feel like
Let me show you how to feel right
Let me show you how to feel right girl

Irresponsibilities led us down this road
And I know you know better than that
I know you know better than that
I can't be held responsible
Let me show you what it feel like
(Let me show you what it feel like)
I can't be held responsible
Let me show you what it feel like
(Let me show you what it feel like)

Yeah, I can tell by the morning
We'd be going separate ways
Your own irresponsibilities put you back in this place
I'll say, that I wish that I could stay
But I'm lying to your face again
And almost everyone who says they love you
Is almost everyone who's lying to you, girl
(Oh, the truth hurts)
And I thought you knew better than that
But I guess you don't know better than that

So, let me show you what it feel like
Let me show you what it feel like
Let me show you how to feel right
Let me show you how to feel right girl
Let me show you what it feel like
Let me show you what it feel like
Let me show you how to feel right
Let me show you how to feel right, girl

Irresponsibilities led us down this road
And I know you know better than that
I know you know better than that
I can't be held responsible
(Let me show you what it feel like)
Let me show you what it feel like
I can't be held responsible

(Let me show you what it feel like)
Let me show you what it feel like