

Carry On

Blessed By A Broken Heart

Crash into reality,
The truth is that we'll always suffer.
This is our reality
And know that we will always suffer.

We'll overcome this world
And pray for better days.

If you feel like giving up baby well don't turn around
Be strong, hold on
(Well don't turn around)
We will carry on
I'll take your burdens upon my shoulders

I'll be there for you
I'll be there for every breath you take
I'll be there through every move you make

We'll overcome this world
And pray for better days.

Facing this reality,
We always look for something better.
Forget this reality
For we were meant for something greater.

If you feel like giving up baby well don't turn around

Hold on!
If you feel like giving up baby well don't turn around
Be strong, hold on
(Well don't turn around)
We will carry on
I'll take your burdens upon my shoulders
We will carry on

By the grace of God, we will carry on!
