

So High

Blind Melon

Does it ever seem like you're living in a story someone else wrote
Everything you've done was all scripted out
Getting thrown in all directions but the path I want isn't there
I was told it's a few steps away

I could die in the sky and
Leave this world behind
I'd get so high
Live free

Have you ever felt like someone was watching you with no eyes
You try to spot them out but they all hide
Oh well I'm standing on a tower of endless thinking
Oh would you like to have a thought with me

Oh and the world seems like one big buzz of peace
We'll be floating on below

What would it take for me to find a way to survive
A cut so deep it shows the other side

I could die in the sky and
Leave this world behind
I'd get so high
Live free

And the world seems like one big buzz of peace
We'll be floating on the love
If Lennon was here he would sing this part
