

Lover Leave Me Drowning

Blitzen Trapper

Lover, leave me drowning in the early morning
Sitting on the surface in the cold, cold night
I am always sleeping when you come

Lover, leave your clues within my shoes so lonely
Dimly-lit descriptions of the ocean's floor
I am always sleeping when you come

When you go, you sew the storms together
When you touch my face, the oceans part
Whippoorwills descend to take you home again,
Lonely from the darkness of my heart
My heart

When you go, you sew the storms together
When you touch my face, the oceans part
Whippoorwills descend to take you home again,
Lonely from the darkness of my heart
My heart

Lover, leave me drowning in the early morning
Sitting on the surface in the cold, cold night
I am always sleeping when you come
