Kingdom Come

Bloodgood

Just once is never enough You got to try it over and over Sometimes won't satisfy you Cause constant is your number

Just like a rat in the lab You're a creature of habit You see the crack in your face And you've got to grab it

Are you ready Now the day is done Are you ready for the Kingdom Kingdom to come

Maybe you got something cookin'
Maybe not is more like it
Could be you're locked in a contract
And there's no new negotiations

Or maybe you got tired of trying So you stopped and just let go No maybe about it There's someone you ought to know

Get ready to go
Get ready to leave
To be ready for judgement
You must believe

Get down on your knees
Put your face to the floor
What ya waitin' for Waitin' for, waitin' for
