

For the Days of the End

Bloodpit

Afterwards you'll know when you were content Divide your life in parts then select the era you like the most
It is okay and unavoidable Disappointment's a message you still have a long way to go

Dissatisfaction means your misfortune is real Dissatisfaction for the days of the end

These drive us to live on and on
The day when everything is done
When you miss nothing at all
It means you're matured for goodbyes

Easy to count the mistakes when aware of the results
The afternoon of your life tells not that you're old
If dissatisfied when dying now this means you've failed
Was that game worth playing I don't live to give

When there's nothing more to give
There is so much left to take
