

When you holler baby
When you holler at me
What you want me to be
When you holler baby
When you holler at me
What you want me to

I won't be strong and I won't be brave
I never stay
Because you don't treat me the right way
I won't be a part of this drawn out game
I never stay
Because you don't treat me the right way

You're holding my back against the sunshine
You might not think its over
But it's over for me
I need your reflection like a thin line
You might not think its over
But it's over for

I won't be strong and I won't be brave
I never stay
Because you don't treat me the right way
I won't be a part of this drawn out game
I never stay
Because you don't treat me the right way

You don't treat me the right way

I won't be strong and I won't be brave
I never stay
Because you don't treat me the right way
I won't be a part of this drawn out game
I never stay
Because you don't treat me the right way

You don't treat me the right way
