You Lost Me There

Blues Traveler

I've been hoping for some last stand To bank everything on one heroic play But when you're waiting for your big chance I've come to learn that it don't go down that way And I'm not talking about no free ride I've stood by and I've watched them fade to dust Its not for high ideals 'Cause you know I've tried At some point I think everybody must

And you lost me there What's the point of playing if you're trying to win And I don't care I can't get over and I can't get in

I wish that I could feel so free and wise As to satisfy the justice that I crave The sun will set again, the sun will rise In the darkness I will have to try to be brave

And you lost me there What's the point of playing if you're trying to win And I don't care I can't get over and I can't get in

In loving faith I know a time will come When day and night, both, you and I will see If thats just a prayer, that thy will be done Thats just the way I wanted it to be

And you lost me there What's the point of playing if you're trying to win And I don't care I can't get over when I can't get in
