

The End

Bon Jovi

So now its over let the spot light fade
I hear the music slowly fade away
And now I find it hard to say good-bye
So Ill just say good night my friends

The end (well be together)
The end (well live forever)
Well all be together in the end
The end (although its over)
The end (its never over)
Well all be together in the end

If every moment is a memory
A faded photograph of days gone by
Can I take a little piece of you with me
For when I leave this all behind

The end (well be together)
The end (well live forever)
Well all be together in the end
The end (although its over)
The end (its never over)
Well all be together in the end

Come on, come on, come on, darling lay you head down...
Come on, come on, come on, little darling, help me baby,
cause I cant see the lights...

Im getting tired so I close my eyes
I need to look at you just one more time
And though its over, its never over
Until I see you again

The end (well be together)
The end (well live forever)
Well all be together in the end
The end (although its over)
The end (its never over)
Well all be together in the end

The end (well be together)
The end (well live forever)
Well all be together in the end
The end (although its over)
The end (its never over)
Well all be together in the end
