Honey

Bonnie McKee

Memories haunting my evenings, Eyes watching me through the moon I hope my good days aren't over Not so soon.... I never have seen an angel I gave up watching the sky Whisper softly to me honey But don't lie,don't you lie

I still see you when my eyes are closed And tell me why I can't let go I still smell you inside of my clothes Oh, honey

Someday I'll go for the glory I'll conquer everyones fears and For once the ending of the story won't be tears I have seen to much betrayel I have heard to many lies Someday I'll be purple lightening in the skys

I still see you when my eyes are closed And tell me why I can't let you go I still smell you inside of my clothes Oh, honey... I can't love anybody but you, oh, honey...

I was alone, I was broken ehh I needed someone to love Your love was sticky like honey Your love was sticky like honey I said your love was sticky like honey

I still see you when my eyes are closed And tell me why I can't let go I still smell you inside of my clothes Oh, honey... woooo oyea

I can't love anybody but you,I'm afraid Yea but I know its true I can't find no one sweeter then you Oh, honey..... See you, fell you,touch you,,,can't let go of you Honey...
