When Will You Learn

When Will You Learn From your tears and your sorrow When will you see Destiny is in your hands When Will You Learn You say you're gonna change But day by day Our lies remain the same Glowing hot and crude hate And you need someone to blame And You'd do the same Giving hate a name Yes, You do the same When Will You Learn From your tears and your sorrow When will you see Destiny is in your hands All of your tricks and lies Boy, will count for nothing When Will You Learn I know you'll never change But day by day Our lies remain the same Glowing hot and crude hate And you need someone to blame And You'd do the same Giving hate a name Yes, You do the same
