

One Sweet Dream

Boy Meets Girl

We missed before, and we missed again
I want you now and you wanted me then
I'm chasing down the shadow of one sweet dream
But I'm so far behind there's no way that I can win
Better leave it to twist in the wind
What if I never touch you again?
Too late my baby, oh my baby
One sweet dream falls apart
But I still feel the beat of my heart
And the motion is still in my feet
So I'll just let it carry me down
To another sweet dream
To another sweet dream
To another sweet dream
To another sweet dream
Love washed in, when I saw you
I shut my eyes, and you look right through Windows should open but so few do
'Cause we think we have 2 much 2 lose
Silence is one way to bury the truth
So you leave it to twist in the wind
Knowin' I'll never touch you again
Too late my baby, oh my baby
One sweet dream falls apart
But I still feel the beat of my heart
And the motion is still in my feet
So I'll just let it carry me down
To another sweet dream
To another sweet dream
To another sweet dream
To another sweet dream
You come into my dream
I find you there I love you then
Bodies that feel no pain
That feel no fear that feel no shame
Love is the only aim
Wanna fan the fire wanna break the chain
Darkness is shattering
When the light pours in when it's skin on skin
In this place I have no name
Only time only now and nothing to explain
Love is the only aim
One sweet dream falls apart
But I still feel the beat of my heart
And the motion is still in my feet