

'Til the Sun Goes Down

Boyzone

Some days it hits you like a tons of water
All the sons and daughters
It's a crying shame
Count your blessings as you're going under
How it make you wonder
Will it ever change
Fix a broken coffee cup
The never ending washing out won't wait

[Chorus:]

Why do we cry when we hear hallelujah
It does something to you
Each and every lines
So we all rise till we all stand together
Each and every one
Somewhere we belong
Till the sun goes down

Everybody needs someone to hold
And cause nobody told them it would be this way
If for a moment we could taste the glory
And forget our worries
Let the evening fade

[Chorus]

Bruised by every consequences
So we're all sitting on the fence these days
Fix a broken coffee cup
The never ending washing out won't wait

[Chorus]
