Too Late for Hallelujah

What have you got? That you can leave behind If it fits in a box Was it a waste of time? What have you learn? Did you stop to write it down? Do you deserve how cold you feel right now? You never needed anyone But you need someone today You never needed anyone But you need someone today

[Chorus:] When it all breaks down When it all breaks up And it's too late now Too late for Hallelujah When you burn and fall Whoa, whoa, whoa Too late for Hallelujah

How did it tast at your table for one? How did you dance if you never held someone? You never asked for anything And that's exactly what you've got Desperately you tried to change But every skins just feels the same

[Chorus]

I used to hear you say Nothing can change your mind Look at how the angels pray Only the truth survive Too late [2x] Whoa, whoa, whoa Too late for Hallelujah

[Chorus]
