If I lose my head again, please remind me that I have nothing And I'd be nowhere without you to protect me
If you can't reach me again, well you are my only friend
You'll find me at the bottom playing guitar badly
Life's a game to me, but with only one controller
And he's unhappy

So please, please won't you join me Until the very end It's adventure time again

When I enter Fatherhood, if I can't teach what is good Won't you promise that you'll refresh me If I lose my Irish charm when there's grandkids hanging off my arms

We'll go on an adventure and relive history Life's a game to me, but with only one controller And it's out of batteries

So please, please, please won't you join me Until the very end It's adventure time again

I fell in love with life but only when I met you Only right there and then
So let's be what we could have been
You could be most anything
But all I wanted was a friend

So please, please, please won't you join me Until the very end It's adventure time again
